A Silent Pilot.
Nothing helps so much in the enjoyment of your vacation as a good map. It shows you the streams and lakes you can fish in, the mountains you can climb, the places of interest you can visit, and the roads you can wheel or tramp on. The Lackawanna Railroad has just issued a set of colored maps on a large scale, showing the territory reached by its lines in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. These maps give every highway, post-office, trolley line and railroad, and are so bound that they can be conveniently carried in the pocket. They are invaluable to automobile tourists and travelers, and should be owned by every one who wishes to be informed on the geography of these three States. The entire set in a neat cover may be had by sending ten cents in stamps to T. W. Lee, General Passenger Agent, Lackawanna Railroad, New York city. The edition is limited. Write for day.

Nominations Ratified.

The First Ward Republican Club of this town held an enthusiastic meeting Tuesday night, when the nominations of Roosevelt and Fairbanks for President and Vice-President were ratified. President Harry L. Osborne was in the chair. The following resolutions offered by Captain Samuel G. Hayter were unanimously adopted amid cheers:

"We, the members of the First Ward Republican Club, in mass-meeting assembled, desire to put ourselves on record as follows:

"Resolved, That having an abiding faith in the principles of the Republican party we do most sincerely pledge our support to its platform, and our earnest effort in the election of its candidates.

"Resolved, That in Theodore Roosevelt, as candidate for President, and Charles W. Fairbanks for Vice-President, we have standard-bearers whom the people can trust and safely follow.

"Resolved, That in nominating these men for the highest places in the gift of the American people, the Republican party is simply carrying out the behests of the people.

"Resolved, That, in doing so the Republican party, acting for the people and with the people, must and surely will be victorious on November, 1904.

"Resolved, That we do most heartily and with intense enthusiasm endorse the action of our government at Morocco, thereby showing the world that the Stars and Stripes cover and protect the American citizen wherever he may be, no matter what it may cost."

Speeches were made by Clarence E. Van Winkle, Charles F. Kocher, John A. Lawrence, Charles H. Madole and Samuel G. Hayter. A membership committee, consisting of George W. Heath, Walter M. Hupier, C. E. Van Winkle and Charles F. Adams, was appointed.

At Proctors

Malcolm Williams, the leading man of the Fifth Avenue Stock Co., re-enters the east on July 4, after a month's vacation in the mountains. Mr. Williams had played steadily for almost two years and a half, during which time he had studied more than one hundred roles, and felt the need of rest and recuperation before continuing his work. During his absence S. Miller Keat played a special starring engagement of two weeks, and Wallace Erskine, one of the old favorites, also made a brief reappearance. A number of important dramatic successes have been secured for the use of the Proctor stock companies at the Fifth Avenue and One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street Theatres, and this promises to be the most prosperous summer season on record.
